

HITLER POSTPONES MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS

Supreme Court Orders Vote In Engineer Race

Instructions to Election Board Contained In Decision

THIS ENDS FIGHT,
SAYS VOTE CLERK

No Defense by Election Board Factor
In Opinion

The Ohio supreme court indicated today it had no alternative but to order an election for county engineer in Columbiana county.

Failure of the Columbiana county election board to defend an action brought by Charles O. Snyder (R.)

of Salem and Robert S. Wheatley of Salineville, nominees for county engineer, to require the board to place their names on the ballot appeared to decide the case in their favor.

The election board was enjoined
from placing the candidates' names on the ballot by a writ of mandament granted to Lloyd C. Kirk, circuit court judge, by Judge W. F. Lones.

Wanted Job to 1940
Kirk applied for the writ following the nomination of Snyder and Wheatley at the August primaries, contending that he should hold the office until 1940 because there was no vacancy in the position and,

consequently, no election could be held.

Upon granting of the writ of mandamus by Judge Lones, Snyder and Wheatley, through their attorneys, W. O. Wallace of Columbiana and Charles McCorkhill of Salem, appealed to the supreme court to compel the board of elections to print their names on the ballot.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt said "that seems to settle it" when he informed that the election board would make no defense of the appeal. Attorneys for the candidates then asked for judgment on the hearings.

Kennedy Eliminated
The court sustained a demurrer of the attorney general eliminating Secretary of State William J. Kennedy as a party defendant with the election board. No arguments were presented.

A decision formally ordering the candidates' names placed on the ballot is expected late today. The board of elections deferred printing the ballots until the supreme court reached a decision.

Frank O'Hanlon, clerk of the election board, when informed of the decision, said "this ends the fight."

O'Hanlon added that Snyder and Wheatley will run for an unexpected term of two years and approximately 50 days. The winner will be eligible to take office two days after the election when he receives a certificate of election from the board.

AMERICA'S POSITION

It was desirable that the government of the United States take a position favoring continued negotiations to find a peaceful settlement of the tension which threatens to cause war in Europe. It has an obligation to do everything it can to preserve peace.

It is committed to such a position by the spirit and letter of the treaties which it has signed and by its general foreign policy of amity and peaceful settlement of all disputes.

In these times when dictators are taunting democracies with charges that they lack power and purpose, the dictators should know that the United States stands solidly behind President Roosevelt's direct appeal to Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany and President Benes of Czechoslovakia for a continuance of negotiations.

Its sympathy in a showdown inevitably will belong to the nation and to the group of nations which tried to maintain peace, never to the side which abandoned the methods of civilization for brute force.

DELIVERANCE

Preoccupation with the world's collapse is a tragic state of mind for a season when the things which men cannot affect by their mistakes are at their best.

There is nothing so well worth doing now as to look on the rich fulfillment of this year's promise of autumn glory. It is the surest, most satisfying, way to keep that balance of mind whose absence threatens to shatter the security of millions of persons in Europe.

It is unnecessary to cite the advantages of enjoying the fields, forests and streams to most Americans. They find their deliverance from too much man-made complexity as naturally as they seek the open air and the serenity of country landscapes.

It is only those letting themselves imagine the world is confined within walls and boundaries, and ruled by little creatures struggling for mites of power and instants of influence who forget the existence of a scheme of nature infinitely larger and better than the men who interfere with it.

TOO MUCH IN A NAME

It's a tribute to the quality of the stock which settled America in the post-Mayflowers years that its descendants are the pride and joy of football coaches, but are the lads getting their share of the glory?

For it's one thing to thrill to the sight of a sturdy warrior making the opposing team look like badly trained monkeys, but quite another thing to tell about it afterward if the warrior's name is unpronounceable.

Long ago the theater saw the wisdom of giving its star performers names that could be pronounced and remembered. It's taken for granted that Honey Pie's real name isn't that at all; no one objects.

But year after year football fans struggle with unpronounceable names and usually end up by saying, "Oh, you know, that fellow with the six-syllable name full of Z's and H's who plays tackle." It's a cruel handicap to hang on a football player thirsting for immortality.

IT STILL IS NOT TOO LATE

Adolf Hitler talked Monday to keep up his courage. He was standing on one of the hottest spots any statesman ever occupied—and he knew it.

He couldn't blind the world outside Germany to his predicament by recounting his successes and pointing to his alliance with Benito Mussolini. His danger—Germany's danger—is too real to be hidden.

As he whipped his German listeners to a frenzy he knew what the Nazi propaganda ministry will keep them from knowing—that Great Britain, France and Russia also had made up their minds to act.

They had decided to fight to keep Germany from shoving Czechoslovakia to the wall. Hitler had been warned that invasion would mean war. A greater force than the military might of the third reich had asserted itself.

In the face of that force Hitler faltered. His oratory could keep Germans at a pitch of frenzy, but his reason warned him that he had gone too far. Had he been as confident of Germany's invincibility as he claimed to be, the German army would have been in the Sudeten long before now. Czechoslovakia is not Austria.

Europe's problem in statesmanship has changed. The prime necessity no longer is to convince Adolf Hitler that in the world of realities where he dwells there is a greater reality than his ambition to extend German influence eastward. He no longer is deluded by his hope that he could do this without encountering opposition. He is angry at President Benes of Czechoslovakia with good reason; President Benes stands in his way—one man with a country at his back.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler does not want to fight. He wants to use the threat of fighting to get what he wants. War would be suicide for his ambitions. Nevertheless, having chosen to live by the sword, he must perish by the sword, unless an alternative can be created.

Thus, the new problem in statesmanship is to find a way to release Adolf Hitler from a decision which, if made, would be ruinous to all of Europe. It is time to remember the lesson of the World War—that in modern mass warfare no one can win.

Hitler was offered a peaceful settlement of the Sudeten issue, which he claims is the last territorial dispute to be settled under his program. He turned it down, apparently because he was confident he could do better. The consequence of that action was to strengthen the alliance which already was forming against him.

He knows now he must make a compromise or plunge Germany into war. He dares not back down, or he would be ruined politically. That is the problem posed for Europe's statesmen. They must find a way to cave Hitler in order to preserve peace. It's a grim paradox, but true.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, September 29

JUDGING BY the lunar aspects, this may be a day of major events, although they may be conflicting. On one hand there are staunch and sturdy ability and application, leading to a vanquishing of obstacles, a forging ahead to solid places by tenacity and perseverance. On the other there is a tendency to act on impulse, aggressively and not at all amiably. This may cause enmity, jealousy and defeat, and "upset the apple cart" after much fine diligence and hard work.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which the issues are dependent on wise and controlled conduct. There may be an earnestness and determination to make sound achievements by diligence and hard work and, at the same time, there may be tempestuous urges which may incite vindictive reprisals, enmity or strife. This may lead to the loss of a promised fine friendship or assistance of an influential person. Suppress rash and over strenuous acts and behavior.

A child born on this day may have a difficult nature with excellent talents and sound abilities, as well as good judgment, but it may be reckless, nervous and impatient. This may cause hostility and strife, although elders and powerful persons may be its friends and patrons.

HITS EMERGENCY BOARD

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.—Constitutionality of the state emergency board, which has appropriated millions of dollars since its creation in 1892, was attacked in common pleas court today.

Mrs. Agnes Dickinson, Columbus attorney, made the challenge in pleading for a temporary order to enjoin the state from paying $15,000 to finance the expenses of a Canton band, Massillon drum corps and Crooksville quartet to the National American Legion convention in Los Angeles.

The board allocated the $15,000 Sept. 13 and the Ohio department of the Legion cashed the voucher at a bank the next day, but on Sept. 15, Arnett Harbage, West Jefferson farmer, obtained an order restraining the state treasurer from honoring the voucher until the injunction suit could be heard on its merits.

Mrs. Dickinson, counsel for Harbage—sometimes referred to as "unofficial watchdog of the treasury"—termed the legislature's creation of the board an "unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority."

"Even if the board were constitutional it had no authority to appropriate the money as there was no emergency or deficiency and the legion is not a state department," she added.

Paul M. Herbert, former state Legion department commander and its counsel, contended that the Legion was a part of the state government.

OUR READERS

MORE ABOUT VENUS
Editor, The News:
Lest we forget, I would like to call the attention of those interested, to the star that caused so much discussion early in the summer; that star thought by many to be some sort of artificial light in the sky.

This star is not a star but one of the planets of our sun's family of planets—Venus by name. You may still see it in the western sky, low on the horizon as the sun sets. But not for long. Soon it will have disappeared from our night sky and will for the next few months accompany the sun across the heavens in the daylight hours. When next we see it, it will be as a morning star.

This planet accomplishes its journey in its orbit about the sun in 225 days. Owing to the difference in time it takes the earth and Venus to go around the sun in their orbits, we will not see Venus in the same aspect as we have seen it during the summer until 1946.

True, you will see it each year but it will not be so bright as to arouse your curiosity. Venus is our sister planet, comparing in size and is nearest of any of them. And yet we know the least about her physical makeup.

Venus is constantly enveloped in a cloud. Astronomers never have seen the planet's surface; they do not know for certain the length of day there. Venus has no moon. She must have been slumbering when they passed out the moons, or Jupiter would hardly have got away with nine while she got none.

Points Out Part Stomach Plays In Digesting Food

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

AFTER DIGESTION in the mouth cavity, there is an irresistible impulse to swallow the bolus of food. The muscles in the back of the pharynx seize it and propel it into the upper part of the esophagus.

Normally the passage through the esophagus to the stomach is made with lightning-like rapidity. When seen under the X-ray, the food moves so fast that the eye can hardly follow it. Sometimes, however, there occurs a functional obstruction due to spasm of the muscle at the inlet to the stomach. The muscle is known as the cardia and the condition is called cardiospasm.

The cardia is normally below the diaphragm, but in some people it is above and spasm is especially likely to occur with them. The same. But in such cases another function of the body suffers—blood formation—because the stomach secretes a substance which, combined with the food, prevents anemia. This substance, however, can easily be supplied in artificial form. The stomach is the body's pe-

Everybody is inclined either to love or hate their stomach. It gives them such a good time. But even wind that blows upsets it. It is truly the barometer of our daily life. A good appetite may be a curse. The introspective invalid, who is always saving his stomach, may long outlive the fellow who takes the cast iron digestion.

esophagus dilates and they experience a feeling of a lump or of a fullness under the left rib margin. They also tend to regurgitate their food for several hours after a meal. Mild cases need no treatment, because the spasm gives away and the food enters the stomach.

The stomach is essentially a preparatory chamber in the process of digestion. The food is mixed there, churned up and delivered slowly to the intestine in quantities just sufficient not to tax its capacity.

Stomach Juice Acid
The stomach juice is acid due to the secretion of hydrochloric acid from the gastric walls. The acid prepares protein food by hydrolysis for efficient intestinal digestion.

Absorption hardly occurs in the stomach at all. Water passes right through the stomach as if in a trough, even though the stomach is full of food. Even when we are very thirsty we have to wait until water gets into the intestines to be absorbed.

Since its work is so largely preliminary to digestion, the stomach could be removed without greatly interfering with the digestive process. Surgical operations are therefore done in the stomach with considerable impunity. Complete atrophy of the stomach wall can occur and digestion goes on just the

Chamberlain reveals Messages Exchanged Across the Rhine

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A declaration by Adolf Hitler to Prime Minister Chamberlain that the Czechoslovak situation had become unbearable "and will now be terminated by me" was disclosed today with publication of correspondence between Chamberlain and Hitler.

The British government issued a white paper disclosing the documents exchanged between the fuhrer and the prime minister during their recent negotiations on Europe's crisis.

This showed that, as the two sat in their hotels separated by the Rhine at Godesberg last week, Hitler wrote to Chamberlain that sudden refugees were coming into Germany "of their own free will" based on the right of self-determination of nations.

He added it was "the irrevocable decision of the German reën to give effect to this will."

Hitler further gave warning he was not prepared to allow territory "which must be considered as belonging to Germany to be left without the protection of the reich."

"It is impossible for us to refrain from giving immediate protection to this territory," he said.

The white paper disclosed that in his first letter to Hitler, written at Godesberg last Friday, Chamberlain said he was ready to put up to the Czechoslovak government Hitler's proposal as to the areas to be ceded to the reich so that Prague might examine the suggested provisional boundary.

Firemen's Holiday

OTTAWA, Kas., Sept. 28.—When the Kansas firemen's association concluded its balking for new officers, everyone present was perspiring from an arduous, long-drawn out campaign.

Between the distribution and counting of ballots, the firemen—visiting delegates included—had answered two alarms, extinguished two blazes.

Hunter Is Killed
XENIA, Sept. 28.—A shotgun he borrowed for hunting yesterday killed Clarence Martin, 28, Athens, when he tripped over a fence rail. He was a soil conservation foreman at a CCC camp near here.

Dies At Canton
CANTON, Sept. 28.—Funeral service will be held in his native Chicago for William G. Gubbins, 65-year-old secretary-treasurer of the Berger Manufacturing Co., who died yesterday of a heart attack.

SYDNEY, Australia.—A local nurse, Kathleen Thompson, has recovered from nine weeks of coma but with complete loss of memory. She remembers only events since her illness.

E. Palestine Asks County for Highway

EAST PALESTINE, Sept. 28.—The East Palestine Civic and Industrial association, merchants and city officials will petition Columbiana county commissioners and the state highway department for an East Palestine-Lisbon road, it was reported at a meeting last night.

Conrad Berg, county commissioner, spoke on the various road projects in progress and explained the difficulties in securing new roads.

The new road sought by industrial and civic leaders here will pass through New Waterford and Fairfield. Work on a new road between here and New Waterford, a section of the proposed Lisbon road, will be started within three weeks, Berg declared.

The commissioners are attempting to get a d. from the Pennsylvania railroad on repairing the overhead bridge on the New Waterford road.

Atty Frank W. Springer, head of the industrial committee of the association, reported that plans are being made to seek a right of way to place sewer connections to the Pittsburgh Chair Co. plant, Park ave. ext.

senate nomination in the district, made a plea for whole-hearted support on behalf of the nominees, Roy Merriman of Steubenville and Ray Palmer, Barnesville.

"We must elect Republican representatives and senators to support Bricker," Hall said. "For a time I believed I had been nominated for state senator. But an investigation later convinced me I had been beaten honestly and fairly. I'm 100 per cent behind the nominees and I urge the same support for them from all Republicans in the district."

Name Finance Committee
A finance committee of 10 members with more to be appointed later was announced by the chairman. The committee consists of S. W. Weaver, Columbiana; Charles Wright, Lisbon; I. F. Mellinger, Leetonia; John Litty, Salem; Harry Schaff, Salineville; Mayor Howard Kelly, Wellsville; Howard R. Thompson, East Liverpool; W. Campbell George, East Palestine; H. K. Lynn, Franklin township, and Frank Cox, Hanover township.

Among those called upon for brief talks were John Bauknecht, East Palestine; Ray Adam of Lisbon, Joe Bretz of New Waterford, Ralph Hawley of Salem, Thomas Cartwright of East Liverpool, Mrs. Elmer T. Phillips of Youngstown, James Good and Jason Brookes of East Liverpool, and John M. Kerr of Yellow Creek township.

Talks and discussion followed a banquet starting at 6:30 p. m. and served to 150 of the committeemen and other guests.

Janet Gaynor and Robert Montgomery in a scene from "Three Loves Has Nancy" which shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State theater.

"Three Loves Has Nancy," a comedy bringing together three long-time screen favorites, Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, comes to the State Thursday to show through Saturday.

One of the most unusual and infrequent pages from modern life is highlighted in "Three Loves Has Nancy." It is dedicated to the comedy resulting from a "quadrangle" instead of the perennial triangle.

The picture, hilarious relation of the adventures encountered by a small-town girl who finds three men seeking her hand in marriage, is based on a succession of comedy situations knit together by a well-paced story.

Still Unsophisticated
Janet Gaynor, whose recent ascension to fame has hinged on a succession of glamorous roles, is again cast as an unsophisticated young lady who wears gorgeous gowns in an atmosphere of ultra-modern sophistication.

Montgomery whose dramatic work in "Night Must Fall" and "Yellow Jack," proved his versatility, returns to the playboy roles which won him stardom as a flippancy novelist whose romantic affairs are Broadway tattle.

Tone portrays a wealthy publisher who is the closest friend of Montgomery until the girl comes from a small town to cause a rift between them.

Supporting players were chosen for their ability to interpret the difficult comedy characters demanded by the story. The supporting cast is headed by Guy Kibbee, Claire Dodd and Reginald Owen.

Montgomery, as a novelist, becomes involved with an actress. Through the aid of Tone, his publisher, he is sent on a lecture tour of the south. There he meets Miss Gaynor, small-town girl, on his wedding day. When the bridegroom fails to arrive from New York she goes to find him and is on the same train with Montgomery.

Greenberg's Home Run Chase Close As N. L. Pennant Race

DETROIT STAR CLOSE TO NEW HOMER RECORD

Greenberg Has Five Days To Hit Two or More Circuit Blows

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
The rest of the baseball world may be hanging on the outcome of the Pittsburgh-Chicago series, but what excites the Detroit Tigers and most of the American league is whether Hank Greenberg can sock three more homers between now and Sunday.

Big Hank hit his 57th and 58th circuit blows of the season yesterday in a short second game as the Tigers trimmed the St. Louis Browns, 5-4 and 10-2. That broke a record in itself for it was the eleventh time he had hit two or more in a game this season. But the question is whether he can equal or top Babe Ruth's major league record of 60, established back in 1927.

Greenberg has five games to go if rain doesn't interfere. At this stage in '37, Ruth had only 56 homers, but he made four in three days, hitting No. 60 in the semi-final game of the season.

Greenberg was the only one who managed to give 14 other clubs a look-in while the Cubs and Pirates battled in the series that means the National league pennant. Chicago's 2-1 victory, earned through a magnificent mound performance by sore-armed Dizzy Dean, reduced the Buccaners lead to a half game.

Another victory today would put the Cubs on top, but they still would have to win the final tomorrow to hold the lead. To make the road ahead even rougher, Gabby Hartnett had to call upon Big Bill Lee to relieve Dean when the Bucs threatened in the ninth. That may change Gabby's plan to pitch Lee in the finale, for Bill worked a full game Monday before the relief stint.

For the rest of the clubs, yesterday's games were hardly more than just playing out the schedule. The Boston Red Sox walloped the Athletics 11-1 behind Bill Harris' four-hit fling while the Indians downed the Chicago White Sox 6-1 on a five-hitter by Bobby Feller. The champion Yankees finally made it two straight, beating Washington 5-3.

Paul Dean, Dizzy's comebacking brother, took a pitching start when the Cincinnati Reds belted him out in five innings and beat the Cards 3-1. Jim Turner allowed the Phillies three hits in 11 innings and Rookie Tom Evers granted four in nine frames as the Boston Bees swept a doubleheader, 2-1 and 4-1. The Giants and Dodgers broke even in their final engagement. New York taking the first game 5-3 and Brooklyn the six-inning nightcap, 5-1.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By SID FEDER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Yankees figure the Cubs'll come through in the ditty National league race. But that may be only what they're hoping. Because the box office (and the players' cut) will be lots sweeter in Wrigley field than Bill Benswanger's ballyard.

Things we'd like to see: Jimmy Wilson managing those Dodgers, with a bankroll big enough to cash in on those baseball wits of his. Of course, he'd have to be really serious about quitting the Phillies first. And somehow, letting Jimmy go doesn't sound like the usually smart prexy Gerry Nugent. Well, folks, that 185 G's can't all be written off as loss for the Cubs after the way old Diz came through yesterday. . . . And howabout an assist for Louisiana Bill Lee coming in cold to fan Al Todd in the ninth, after tossing a full nine innings against the Cards the day before?

It's none other than your old pal Boiling Billy Grimes scouting the Yankees for the Pirates. There'll be no War Admiral-Seabiscuit get-together at Belmont this trip. . . . The Biscuits already been shipped to Delaware. . . . The grapevine says Bill Terry has his eyes on Johnny Mize and Phil Cavaretta for the winter trading.

But you can definitely write off the Joe DiMaggio-for-Hank Greenberg talk. All concerned say "no dice." John Henry Lewis will train out near Pittsburgh for his Oct. 21 title go with Al Gainer at New Haven. . . . Incidentally, the weight hovey man is beginning to get in old Jaws' hair.

The latest is Mickey Cochrane is through with baseball. . . . But don't bet the house and lot on it, if change Gabby's plan to pitch Lee in the finale, for Bill worked a full game Monday before the relief stint.

FOOTBALL FRIVOLITIES!

Bluffton Gridders Decide Football Wasn't Meant For Him After Series of Injuries; Capital Correspondent Rates "Tops"

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.—Football frivolities!

Jim Ken Stover of Willard, a senior of Bluffton college, has decided that football was not meant for him and vice versa.

In his freshman year he reported for the squad, but a broken arm early in the season put him on the shelf. He returned the following year, but suffered a season-ending back injury in an early practice session. Last year he stayed away from the gridiron, but this year he was back in moleskins, ready to go.

Playing defensive center in the opener against Hillsdale last Saturday, he made a beautiful tackle—and came up with a broken wrist.

Dope!—Capital university's campus correspondent is "tops" when it comes to doping football games. Last week he submitted this lead on one of his yarns:

"Bowling Green defeated Capital 12 to 0 last year because the Bees were able to stop Kenny Heister. Capital's great running back, Heister, was injured in a game against Defiance for one play last week.

He carried the ball on the play, scored a touchdown, was injured and carried off the field—all in a space of about 30 seconds.

SLUGGERS GIVE YANKS EDGE IN WORLD SERIES

DiMaggio Leader of Big Bat Brigade On New York Team

(This is the first of three stories comparing the prospective opponents in the world series. First: The outfielders)

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—In sizing up the outfielders who will clash in the first World Series game next Wednesday—whether the Yankees play the Pittsburgh Pirates or the Chicago Cubs—the most logical first move is to take Joe DiMaggio, who is receiving $25,000 for playing centerfield with the Yanks this season.

You might take Joe for about $200,000, each, if owner Jake Ruppert happened to be mad at him. But you would be lucky to get him at that price, and if either the Pirates or Cubs goes through the big series without having Joe bust up a couple of games, they will be lucky, too.

Joe, the leading slugger of a club feared for distance hitting, has a batting average of .328 and 31 home runs to his credit, and gives the Yankee bleacher patrol an obvious edge over either National league trio in a short series.

A right-hand hitter with lots of "wrist" in his swing, DiMaggio will be a distinct threat every time he goes to the plate. So, to a slightly lesser degree, will be Tommy Henrich (.269) who plays right-field for the Yanks and has pored 26 homers. George Selkirk (.253), who divides left-field duties with Myril Hoag, (.281), has hit 10.

Over the season, the Pittsburgh outfield of Johnny Rizzo, Lloyd Waner and Paul Waner has been a sweet one to have around. Any baseball man would rather have it than the Cub combination of Augie Galan, Frank Demaree and Carl Reynolds. Yet the Pirate trio seldom knocks balls out of sight.

Rizzo, the nearest the Pirates have to a game wrecker, has hit 20 home runs and has an average of .297. Also, he has knocked across 104 runs, which is excellent. But Lloyd Waner, who heads the club in hitting with a mark of .311, and his brother Paul, with .283, are strictly stop hitters.

It is traditional that a rival manager once proclaimed, in his best imitation of a radio announcer: "Lloyd Waner hit a terrific drive over the pitcher's head. It's rolling and rolling, folks—clear to the second baseman. Waner beat it out for a single."

This outfield, though, is the spearhead of the Pittsburgh offense. Lloyd is supposed to reach first. Paul is expected to advance him a base or two, and then it is up to either Rizzo or Floyd Vaughan to bring him around. If that doesn't work, they wait an inning or two and try again.

The Yankee system calls for Henrich to hit a homer and for DiMaggio to shake hands with him as he crosses the plate. Or for Gehrig to hit it and Selkirk do the greeting.

Reynolds, the veteran centerfielder, leads the Chicago gardeners with a hitting average of .299, followed by Galan, .284, and DeMaree, the clean-up slugger, with .270. Galan, however, twisted a knee in yesterday's game with the Pirates and may not be available if the Cubs win the pennant. Phil Cavaretta, a 240 hitter is taking Galan's place.

There is little to choose between the three outfielders in fielding skill. They're all good.

End for Reserve

Playing at end for Western Reserve's football team this year is Wilf Waggle of Letonia, one of the lettermen from last year. Waggle is a junior, stands 6 feet, 3 inches and weighs 185 pounds. He suffered a slight bruise in the opening game but showed plenty of off-tackle plays and snatched two passes out of the air for long gains. Reserve plays Youngstown college at Youngstown Saturday night.

Posting three victories over the Masons, Kelly's Service Station remained out in front in the National Bowling league at the Masonic temple alleys last night. Kelly's quint has won nine straight games.

Other National league matches saw Bloomberg's upset the Salem News in two of three games, the Moose win two out of three from Whitehead Products, and Fitzpatrick & Strain take three from the Republican Club.

E. W. Bliss Co. retained its lead in the City Duckpin league at the Grate Recreation alleys last night, winning three games for a record of nine victories. In other matches, the Pottery won three from the Colonial Billiards, Bliss Pattern Shop won two out of three from the Salem Builders, and Art's won two out of three with Sarbin's Cigars.

MORGAN DRAWS WITH SAWYER IN RING SHOW

Don West, Dick Scullion Win In Bouts On Amateur Program

Two technical knockouts, a like number of draws and four decisions provided plenty of action for a small gathering of fistic fans who witnessed Jimmy Perry's first amateur fight show of the 1938-39 season at the Memorial building last night.

The only thing to mar an otherwise splendid show was the small number of fans who turned out to watch the eight-bout program. Perry lost heavily in sponsoring the show, but took it in stride and plans to come back with another program next month.

Steve Morgan, middleweight Golden Gloves champion of Youngstown, and Jack Sawyer of Niles, a former welterweight Golden Gloves titleholder, battled to a draw in the five-round main bout.

Sawyer appeared the more aggressive of the two fighters, but Morgan, a veteran of a large number of amateur fights, had a better defense.

Two Salem fighters, representing Perry's stables, won decisions in the most active bouts of the evening. Don West, promising young featherweight, was given the nod over Carl Wintner of Youngstown after out-boxing the Steel City lad in every round.

Dick Scullion, the hardest puncher among Perry's fighters, failed to kavo his opponent, Ted Bodner of Youngstown, but was given the decision in the semi-final bout.

Bud Walters and Bill Davis of Perry's club were the victims of the technical knockouts, the former losing to Sonny Horn of Niles and the latter to Tiger Reed of Beloit.

Perry threw in the towel for Walters in the second round after the Salem boy had hung himself on a ring rope following a knockdown. The towel went in for Davis after he had bounced hard on the mat after being floored by one of Reed's blows.

Freddy Fox of Salem and George Long of Niles gave the finest exhibition of boxing technique in battling to a draw in a 132-pound scrap. In other bouts, Buck Snyder of Alliance won over Tony Ross of Youngstown by decision, and Galt Walters of Salem dropped the decision to Bill Conley of Alliance.

The first opposition proved him right in all respects but one. It uncovered Jack Schradler, a hitherto unknown first classman, who passed and ran beautifully against the shocker. He replaced Woody Wilson, the No. 1 back who was removed from the game suffering from a slight concussion.

Wilson's early return is expected however and Army finds itself in a pleasant position as far as backs go. Huey Long, a left hander, and Schradler, were hitting their targets admirably against the westerners and the running of these two was outstanding. Capt. Jim Schenk and Art Frontczak blocked splendidly in the open field.

The ends and tackles also lived up to expectations. Jim Lotz and Harry Stella, the first stringers, did well and Jim Mather, hurt last year, did some emphatic blocking. Army's first string ends, Fred Yeager and Riggs Sullivan, were joined by John McDavid, a fine pass receiver, and the experienced Jack Dobson.

J. B. Maxwell, the new center—Army lost three centers by graduation and his replacements were none too good on offense or pass defense.

The substitution of Mel Engstrom for the injured Harold Brown no doubt weakened the guards. Neither he nor Bo Little, the other starter, were effective blockers and Wichita made several healthy gains through the center trio. Guard and center replacements failed to show anything that would bolster the sector. It definitely is weak, Wood—and Army's—biggest problem.

The offense Army showed in its opener was painfully simple, not only because the foe's ineffectiveness called for nothing more but because the backs obviously didn't want to show the scouts in the stands too much.

Most effective plays were there aimed at Wichita's ends. The blockers and Army wings did a magnificent job of mopping up on these. The ball handling on empty formations was good.

"It's easy to see our problem," said Wood. "I hope to build up the center of the line but it will be quite an undertaking. However," he was encouraged by the game. The backs were fair all through and our ends and tackles up to what I had hoped."

The remainder of the schedule: Oct. 1, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, 6. Columbia; 15, Harvard at Cambridge; 22, Boston University; 29, Notre Dame at New York; Nov. 5, Franklin and Marshall; 12, Chattanooga U.; 19, Princeton at Princeton; 26, Navy at Philadelphia.

Paul Dean was shelved from the hill here yesterday as the Reds won, 3 to 1.

Bucky Walters held the Cards to six hits and drove in two of the runs with a double and single. The McKeechie men collected two hits in each of the first five and Dean went out in the fifth and was followed by Latner and Macon. Wally Berger hit his 14th homer in the fifth frame.

Queen Alice

California's blonde Alice Marble is pictured at Forest Hills, N. Y., holding the victor's trophy after she trounced Nancy Wynne, of Australia 6-0, 6-3 to win the women's national singles tennis title. Miss Marble thus regained the title she had won in 1935.

Coach Carl Schroeder had a one-man vote of thanks to give today to Coach Lowell Allen and his Boardman High football squad.

For the past few days, Schroeder had been fearful that overconfidence might set in on his Salem High school Quakers, who had an easy time in walloping Sebring, 39 to 0, in their opening game at Reilly stadium last Friday.

These fears were dismissed yesterday when the Quakers were pushed around in a practice game by a husky Boardman eleven which was handed a 26 to 0 trimming by a small Lovellville team last Saturday.

DEATHS

FINERAN FUNERAL

LISBON, Sept. 28.—Arrangements for the funeral of Frank Fineran, 63, who died at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday at his home here, were incomplete today.

Although the service will be held at the Eells funeral home, the time and other arrangements have not been determined.

Surviving are a son, George, and a daughter, Blanch, of Youngstown; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Simpson of Youngstown and Mrs. C. R. Ogden of Salem; four brothers, Walter of Tulsa, Okla., Harry of Struthers, William and Charles of Salem.

SAMUEL C. JOHNSTON
Word has been received here of the death on Sunday evening, Sept. 25, of Samuel Crawford Johnston at his home in Richmond, Ind.

A former Salem resident, Mr. Johnston leaves four daughters, Mrs. Corwin K. Scott, Mrs. Nellie Huckleberry, Mrs. Ada Vising and Mrs. Grace Stephenson of Richmond.

Mrs. Johnston died three years ago in December, a few days after the couple celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary.

ANTHONY FRANCIS GIRARD
LETONIA, Sept. 28.—Anthony Francis Girard, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Girard of Letonia, died of complications Tuesday in the Youngstown City hospital.

He is survived by his parents and one brother, Donald James.

Funeral rites will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 a. m. Thursday, in charge of Rev. Fr. T. Marchant. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Friends may call at the home anytime.

PIGEON GREAT "NOTE CARRIER"

Charles Cozad Reveals Characteristics of Well-Known Bird

Young birds' training, Cozad explains, begins at about two months of age when fliers take them in cars a distance varying from 5 to 60 miles from home, the distance increasing each time they are taken out until the 60 mile mark is reached. At the 60 mile point in the training beginners races are held, usually from Millersburg, then Mount Vernon (100 miles), Columbus (151 miles), Dayton (200) and other.

One Minute
Although a pigeon will return to its home loft without special training, the speed of its return flight is increased by the handling and setting of the course. A pigeon can fly a mile a minute in favorable weather, and 1000-mile races have been held, testifying to its hardihood. The first year young pigeons are flown principally in 300-mile races but the following year the distance is increased to 600.

Birds are sent to Warrenton, Mo., and there liberated, in the 900 mile local races. St. Louis is the 925-mile race. Fliers send their birds before races to the railway agent in that particular city. The agent, who is accredited and authorized to act for the fliers, waters and, if necessary, feeds the birds, until arrival of the hour upon which he has been instructed to liberate them.

He sets the birds free and immediately sends the flier notice of the time he liberates them and the weather conditions at the starting point which enable the flier to calculate the time of the bird's arrival at the home loft.

The flier catches his birds as they come home, slips the tiny rubber counter mark, which every bird in every race carries on its leg, into the delicate, watch-precision timing device which records the exact time of its arrival home. Those arrival-time sheets and the telegram from the agent are then sent to the national racing pigeon headquarters in the race happens to be a national one or are kept by the proper official of each local club, as proof of the race results.

Variety of Prizes
Cups, diplomas, cash and other prizes are awarded winning fliers. Cozad and other local enthusiasts fly their birds on a southwest course, Cozad discloses.

This year the Salem club of fliers was represented for the first time in a national race held at Chattanooga, Tenn., and the birds entered, owned by Cozad, brought home third and fifth for this section, which comprises Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois and part of Michigan, and fourth and tenth of the entire race.

Local Attorneys Form Partnership

The formation of a law partnership between Attys W. Edmund Peters and Henry L. Reese was announced today.

Att'y Reese, graduate of the Western Reserve school of law, has been associated recently with the firm of Clark and Costello in Cleveland. Att'y Peters opened offices at 288 E. State st., a year ago following retirement from the U. S. department of justice.

Att'y Reese, like Peters, is a graduate of Salem High school. The former also was graduated from Wooster college.

WON'T ANSWER F.D.R.'S APPEAL

Hitler "Takes Cognizance" But Decides to End Messages

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—A foreign office spokesman, commenting upon President Roosevelt's latest appeal for peace to Reichsfuehrer Hitler, said today that the time for exchanging friendly messages is past and it was unlikely any reply would be sent to the United States' president.

"Our fuhrer," said the spokesman, "took cognizance of the American president's reply to his yesterday's telegram, but no answer is likely to be forthcoming, else there will be no end to the messaging back and forth."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt's appeal, anew to Adolf Hitler late last night to avoid plunging Europe into the holocaust of war.

Unlike his earlier plea for peace which went to Czechoslovakia, Great Britain and France as well as Germany, the President directed his message only to Hitler, thereby indicating he believed the reichsfuehrer would be responsible if negotiations to avert war broke down now.

"Present negotiations still stand open," he said. "They can be continued if you will give the word."

Suggests General Parley
The President suggested, too, possible convoking of a general parley in some neutral spot in Europe where all nations "directly interested in the present controversy" could meet and settle their troubles peacefully.

He made it clear at the same time, however, that the United States would neither sponsor nor attend such a meeting and that it was for Europe to work out its own solution.

He had made his pleas for peace, he said, because:

"The conscience and the impelling desire of the people of my country demand that the voice of their government be raised again and yet again to avert and to avoid war."

The decision to send the second appeal was reached at a cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon. Shortly before Mr. Roosevelt and his cabinet had listened to Premier Chamberlain's speech from London and carefully examined Hitler's reply to the President's earlier appeal.

Closer To War
To some of the President's advisers, concerned persons said, it appeared the fuhrer had carried the world even closer to war by the language of his reply than he had in previous statements.

The reichsfuehrer's reply said the possibility of adjusting the Sudeten question had been "exhausted" and made clear Germany would regard Czechoslovakia as responsible if war came.

The President met press correspondents immediately after the cabinet session, but would not discuss the foreign situation.

At dusk Secretary of State Hull and Under-Secretary Welles returned to the White House, and in a historic two-and-a-half hour conference, the note was drafted. It was sent off soon thereafter so that it would reach Berlin well before dawn today and possibly before any irrevocable steps had been taken there.

"Today and Tomorrow"
In his message, the President noted Hitler's historical review of errors contributing to the present threatened war, but said the chief question now was "the fate of the world today and tomorrow."

"The world asks of us who at this moment are heads of nations the supreme capacity to achieve the destinies of nations without forcing upon them, as a price, the mutilation and death of millions of citizens," he said.

"Should you agree to a solution in this peaceful manner I am convinced that hundreds of millions throughout the world would recognize your action as an outstanding historic service to all humanity."

He noted Hitler's agreement that the consequences were unforeseeable and the disaster to the world incalculable should a European war break out, and dwelt at length on the folly of attempting settlement through force of arms.

He emphasized his view that "all matters of difference between the German government and the Czechoslovak government could and should be settled by Pacific methods," and that the threatened resort to arms on a scale likely to result in a general war is as unnecessary as it is unjustifiable.

"My conviction," the President said, "on these two points is deepened because responsible statesmen have officially stated that an agreement in principle has already been reached between the government of the German reich and the government of Czechoslovakia, although the precise time and method and detail of carrying out that agreement remain at issue."

that Adolf Hitler had informed him that Czechoslovakia's political and economic independence would not be endangered by German occupation of Sudetenland.

The letter, sent yesterday after Chamberlain's broadcast to the British empire, was reported to have said, however, that occupation of the Sudeten territory was "indispensable" in view of conditions which Germany could no longer endure.

Hitler told the British prime minister that Germany's decision to occupy Sudetenland by Oct. 1 was intended solely as a measure of safety to insure order during final settlement of the problem by a plebiscite.

Germany is even ready to be guarantor with Poland and Hungary of the revised Czechoslovak state's independence, Hitler was said to have written.

He also was reported to have asked Chamberlain why Britain was mobilizing her fleet and France was preparing for a state of war if Chamberlain realized, as he said in his broadcast, that Europe ought not to be plunged into a war on account of the German-Czechoslovak conflict.

There was no nation in existence anywhere that desired to dominate the whole world by force, he was said to have told Chamberlain, and Germany demands nothing more than the granting of a right solemnly conceded to it.

DENIES 'MARCH' AGAINST CZECHS

Berlin Calls Last Night's Reports of War As "Pure Invention"

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—The German government through the official news agency, DNB, today flatly denied reports that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler had set this afternoon as a deadline for Czechoslovakia to answer his demands.

The agency's statement, answering reports that Germany would mobilize if Prague did not yield by 2 p. m. (8 a. m. in Salem), said the rumors were "pure invention."

"Authentic sources declare that reports spread on the foreign radio that Germany had demanded by 2 p. m. a clear decision from Prague regarding the German memorandum are pure invention," DNB said.

"All speculations connected thereto according to which Germany would mobilize if no satisfactory answer is received by 2 p. m. therefore are likewise false."

"We see in the spreading of such false reports a conscious effort to incite the population to a war spirit in an irresponsible manner."

Troop movements continued and excitement like that of 1914 gripped the nation.

Company's Revenue In Slugs Is High

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. wants Cleveland's city council to change its pin-ball licensing ordinance so the tokens won't fit in its five-cent public telephone boxes.

A. W. McSweeney, company executive, said the company collected 10,015 of the slugs in August, and pointed out the city was installing parking meters soon and might get some of the slugs, too.

Discuss Hybrids

How hybrid corn is produced and how it compares with other corn will be observed at a field meeting to be held at the Willis Rupert farm, near New Waterford, on Friday, Sept. 30, at 1:30 p. m.

Various hybrids have been compared in the plantings. Earl Jones, of the Ohio College of Agriculture, will lead the discussion.
